No Signs Of Verdict Yet In Sheppard Murder Case

Alabama Youth Admits Slaying At Brinkley, Ark.

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—A first degree murder charge was filed today against 19-year-old Bill Ray Willingham, who is accused of beating to death pretty Mrs. Milton Fuller of Brinkley.

Prosecuting Attorney J. B. Reed's secretary announced that Reed had filed the prosecutor's information containing the charge against the Florence, Ala., youth. Conviction of first degree murder in Arkansas carries a maximum sentence of death in the electric chair; a minimum of life imprisonment.

Willingham is being held in an undisclosed jail.

The youth, who left a 16-year-old wife in Alabama, said he drove him into the unpretentious Fuller home, and that a weird sex urge spurred him into killing the young mother.

Russia Threatens To Scrap British Mutual Aid Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia today threatened to scrap the British-Soviet Mutual Assistance Treaty if the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany are ratified.

This warning was in a note handed to British Ambassador Sir William Hayter by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the Foreign Ministry.

The note was understood to be similar to one given France Thursday threatening abrogation of the French-Soviet treaty.

Jury Deadlocked For Four Days In 9-Week Trial

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Still deadlocked, jurors in the Sheppard murder trial ended the morning session today and went to lunch with no sign they are near a verdict.

It was the fourth day since they began deliberating. When they were excused at 12:08 p. m. EST, they had more than 27 hours of conferences behind them, and had been sequestered 74 hours since Friday morning.

Secretary General Of UN Arranges For His Trip To Peiping

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced Sunday night after a meeting with Communist China's ambassador to Sweden that he still plans to leave for Peiping sometime after Dec. 26, but the exact date has not been set.

As Hammarskjöld conferred at a luncheon with the envoy, Gen. Keng Piao, Peiping radio broadcast further legal arguments against the release of the 11 U. S. fliers China is holding as spies. The radio quoted a brief by a Chinese judge that the Korean armistice applied only to the North Koreans and the Chinese "volunteers" in Korea, not to the Chinese peasants and police the broadcast said had captured the airmen.

An official announcement from Hammarskjöld said his 2½-hour discussion with Keng was on practical matters concerning his mission to China. The secretary general will seek the release of the American airmen and all other U. N. personnel still held by the Chinese since the Korean War.

U. N. Press Chief Wilder Foote said all details of Hammarskjöld's China trip would be announced as soon as they have been settled. He said no further meetings were planned with the Chinese before the secretary general's return to New York Tuesday.

The Peiping broadcast Sunday quoted Mei Ju-ao, a Chinese justice at the Japanese war crimes trials after World War II, as saying the case of the American fliers had nothing to do with the Korean armistice because the truce applied on the Communist side only to prisoners captured by the North Koreans and Chinese "volunteers." This fitted in with China's contention that she officially was not involved in the Korean War.

Honest Hitchhiker
DALLAS (AP)—Grady Wilson, 41, found $700 in rolled-up bills by a boulevard and brought it to police headquarters to turn it in. He flagged a ride to the station with a patrolman. Then Wilson, farm hand and laborer from Phoenix, Ariz., continued his hitchhiking to Florida.

Pope Will Give Message Friday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Ailing Pope Pius XII is working on a brief Christmas message he will broadcast to the world over the Vatican radio at noon Friday.

On Christmas Day he plans to appear in the window of his study and bless a throng in St. Peter's Square.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano announced the arrangements today.

Despite the planned brevity of his Christmas message, Vatican observers took the announcement as a new evidence of the Pope's gradual improvement from the illness that threatened his life 18 days ago. It will be the pontiff's third radio message since his collapse Dec. 2.

The Vatican press office said the Pope passed "a fairly tranquil night."

The Pope had a brief return of hiccupping in the night, but rested well, a reliable source reported.

Bikini Bathing Suit Ban Started Early

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—Selectmen say they don't like the idea of Bikini bathing suits on Nantucket streets—in the summer.

Even as the blustery winter winds blew, the selectmen Sunday approved a proposed town by-law which says everyone over 12 must be covered "to a point midway between the hip and knees" if they wander from the beaches.

Selectmen said they approved the proposal at this time of the year since it must be acted on at the Feb. 15 town meeting.

Senate Group Raps Greedy Builders In FHA Scandal Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) proposed today a "continuing and objective study" of the operation of government housing programs but said he would oppose any probe designed to "drag out a lot of dead carcasses."

Sparkman, a senior Democrat on the Senate Banking Committee, spoke out in an interview after release of a 140-page committee report which accused the construction industry of consistently misrepresenting to Congress "the existence of wrongdoing" in the huge postwar rental housing program.

Charges Deleted
The report, issued Sunday night, assailed "a few greedy and sometimes dishonest builders . . . and incompetent, lax and sometimes dishonest FHA officials" as responsible for what it called multi-million-dollar "windfall" profits "at the expense of the American people."

The committee report summed up an eight-month probe of Federal Housing Administration programs.

Sparkman was primarily responsible for having deleted from a preliminary draft of the report an accusation that housing irregularities were the "worst scandal" in history and that "windfall" profits would total one billion dollars if all projects were examined.

Instead, it reported finding 76 million dollars of such profits in 437 of the 543 projects it investigated.

Bristles With Criticism
These profits resulted from FHA-insured mortgages in some cases far greater than actual construction costs.

Despite agreement by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), committee chairman,

France Counting On U.S. Cash In South Viet Nam

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly today gave Premier Pierre Mendes-France a vote of confidence—310 to 172—on his Indo-China policies, thus clearing the way for a four-day debate on German rearmament.

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France told the French National Assembly today that the United States will contribute about 400 million dollars in 1955 to the economic and military buildup of South Viet Nam.

Pleading with the deputies to support him in a vote of confidence later today on his Indo-China policy, the Premier said that in his talks here last weekend with U.S. Secretary of State Dulles he had ironed out many details of the two countries' cooperation in the Far Eastern territory.

The debate and vote on Indo-China, which Mendes-France was expected to win by only a small majority, delayed start of the Assembly debate on the bitterly disputed Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

Countering criticism that France often seemed to be blindly following the U.S. lead in Indo-China, Mendes-France told the deputies he and Dulles had agreed that the two nations would consult before decisions are made and that their representatives in the field henceforth will coordinate their activities.

He said the French expeditionary corps in South Viet Nam will be withdrawn gradually, leaving only enough French soldiers to protect French citizens and interests there. The troops returning from Indo-China will permit France to build up her European defenses, he declared.

Stairs Collapse With Eight Men And Piano

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Archie Logan got eight friends to help him carry a grand piano he had bought his family for Christmas up to his third-floor apartment.

Just below the third landing the stairs collapsed. Two men jumped clear. Logan, the other six men and the 500-pound piano plunged 40 feet. Four of the seven men were trapped under the piano. Falling masonry hit the other three. All but one were in the hospital in serious condition.

Police Rush New Drug From Escanaba To Aid Tiny Manistique Baby

Mary Margaret Bertrand, 7-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Bertrand of Manistique, was saved from death by quick action and the cooperation of local service organizations, D. L. Larson, administrator of Schoolcraft Memorial hospital, reported today.

The tiny Bertrand baby was brought to the Manistique hospital Thursday with a severe bronchial infection, he said and the particular type of infection called for a drug which was placed on the market only recently.

Since the hospital had only a sample amount available, the attending physician telephoned a hospital in Escanaba and was able to secure the drug there. Transportation from Escanaba to Manistique posed no problem, the administrator noted, for Michigan State police relayed the drug from the Gladstone post to Manistique officers, who delivered it to the hospital here. Escanaba city police hurried the drug to the Gladstone city police, who in turn brought it to state police at Gladstone.

The drug was used in conjunction with a "croop tent" recently donated to the hospital by the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

The baby has shown encouraging improvement, but remains in serious condition, the hospital reports.

State police rushed another supply of the drug to the hospital Friday morning, to replenish an almost exhausted supply. Meanwhile local hospital authorities contacted a drug wholesaler serving this area, but could not obtain emergency delivery due to a similar order made the preceding day by another hospital.

Arrangements then were made with a hospital in Sault Ste. Marie for an additional supply of the solution. This is expected to last until a quantity delivery can be made by a producer. The express agency in Manistique rushed the last drug shipment from the train to the hospital Friday.

"This type of cooperation and activity is certainly a very real example of the importance of law enforcement agencies, communication and transportation systems and hospital and medical organizations to the community's health and welfare," Larson observed.

Took Two Biscuits
Mrs. Fuller was found dying early Dec. 12 in her blood-spattered bedroom. She had been hit once with a four-foot stick of firewood. The blow crushed her skull. She died nearly five hours later at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

Prosecutor Reed told newsmen that Willingham Friday admitted striking Mrs. Fuller. However, he said, he and officers first suspected the man might be mentally unbalanced. Willingham underwent a 12-hour psychiatric examination in Little Rock which convinced Reed he was sane. When the youth told officers that he took two of five biscuits from the Fuller kitchen—and a hurried check revealed only three biscuits remaining—Reed said he accepted Willingham's story as true.

No Reason
"Why did you kill Mrs. Fuller?" Willingham was asked by newsmen.

"I don't know why; I just hit her," he replied. "She was asleep when I hit her. I'm sorry."

He flatly denied that he attempted to rape Mrs. Fuller, mother of two little girls, but said, "I did a few things."

"What things?"
"Different things, just different things."

Willingham was picked up for questioning at Forrest City while loitering on the streets, and brought to Brinkley, where he said he was the killer.

Steam Turbine Blows Up; 2 Die

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Commonwealth Edison Co. employees were killed and five more were injured Sunday night in the explosion of a steam turbine in an electric generating plant.

A company spokesman estimated the damage to the 600,000-volt capacity plant at 10 million dollars.

The company said the crippling of the plant had no effect on power service during the night hours, but about 100 large industrial customers were asked to reduce their power use by 25 per cent for today.

The explosion was confined to the plant in southwest suburban Stickney. It tore a 12 by 12 foot hole in the 75-foot high ceiling.

The dead were Clarence T. Jorgenson, 36, of Evergreen Park, a shift engineer who was decapitated by flying metal, and George A. Thorsen, 34, of Oak Lawn, a turbine operator.

The injured are William Griesshammer, 35, of Brookfield; William O. Nichol, 43, of Palos Park; Arthur Zbikowski, 44, and Carl L. Stone, 40, of Chicago, and Bernard T. Davis, 36, of Evergreen Park.

Foundations Branded Menace To U.S. Call Criticism 'Flimsy'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen for several foundations have bit back with such terms as "biased" and "flimsy" at a House committee report accusing the giant tax-free groups of promoting a socialism of "far greater menace" at home than communism.

The report was issued Sunday night over the signatures of the three Republicans on a special five-member committee headed by Rep. Reece (R-Tenn.). One of them, Rep. Goodwin of Massachusetts, dissented from many of the conclusions, including the one that the foundations promote socialism.

Representatives Wayne L. Hays of Ohio and Pfof of Idaho, the two Democratic members, filed a blistering dissent attacking the 416-page report as a "crackpot" view by persons suffering from "fear sickness." They put primary blame on the committee staff.

The report signed by the GOP members pictured the nation's big foundations as comprising an "interlock" and "an intellectual cartel" which, it declared, wields tremendous left-wing power over the nation's thought and policies.

The 12-page opinion by the Democrats declared the investigation was dominated from the start by a "theme of prejudgment" against the foundations "like the theme of doom in a tragic opera."

Professionals Wield Powers
Hays recounted in a separate news conference that the committee's 16 stormy public hearings last May-June were abruptly called off by the GOP majority after only one profound witness had taken the stand. He said he believes it might be a good idea for the new Democratic-controlled Congress to hold a short set of hearings for the foundations to present their side of the case.

Reece, in a separate statement attached to the committee report, said further testimony was not taken because of Hays' "obstructive and harassing acts" at the hearings.

The GOP report said the foundations influence national policies through the power of the purse amplified through a host of "intermediate" organizations, such as information clearing houses and professional associations.

Traffic Mishaps Prove Fatal To 20 In Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents on ice-glazed and snow-slicked highways and street claimed at least 20 lives in Michigan over the weekend.

A 72-year-old Detroit woman suffered fatal injuries in a fire which raked her home and a 16-month-old Muskegon baby accidentally strangled herself while attempting to get out of bed.

Many of the fatal traffic mishaps were blamed directly to skidding on ice or snow.

Ted J. Best, 28, of Mt. Clemens, was crushed to death beneath his truck Sunday night when it over turned after a collision with a car a mile north of Mt. Clemens.

Sixteen-month-old Ronda Buckner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Buckner of Muskegon, was accidentally strangled to death Saturday night while attempting to get out of bed.

Theodore Wiesenmayer, 70, of Jackson, died in a Jackson hospital Sunday a short time after an ambulance in which he was a patient collided with a car five miles east of Jackson on U. S. 12.

Mrs. Ella Cole, 72, of Detroit, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when her home caught fire from an overheated stove.

Thomas Lynn Boes, 2½, of Sturgis, was killed Saturday when he accidentally opened the rear door of his father's car and tumbled to the pavement of U. S. 112 eight miles east of Sturgis.

Heart Surgeon Uses Jackknife

CHICAGO (AP)—An X-ray technician whose heartbeat was restored after emergency pocket knife surgery Friday still faced a fight for life today.

Lutheran Deaconness Hospital reported 24-year-old Stanley Wisniewski is still in critical condition. He collapsed to the X-ray darkroom floor three days ago and heart message and other procedures kept him alive until his heart resumed normal beating two hours and 15 minutes later.

When Wisniewski suffered a heart attack, a hastily summoned surgeon ascertained his heart had stopped. The surgeon made an incision with a pocket knife and began massaging Wisniewski's heart.

Meanwhile other staff members and equipment were assembled; oxygen was administered; and the patient moved to an operating room where electrical therapy and forced breathing supplemented heart massage.

Crews Raise Italian Airliner After Disaster; 26 Lives Lost

NEW YORK (AP)—Salvage crews planned today to raise the wreckage of an Italian airliner that crashed into Jamaica Bay at the end of a Rome-New York flight Saturday.

Twenty-six persons died. Six others survived.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which has been checking the crash near Idlewild Airport, scheduled preliminary hearings today.

Wreckage of the four-engine DC6B airliner was found Sunday by Navy divers, who reported it appeared to be in three main pieces.

They said the fuselage, in which 17 bodies are believed trapped, seemed to be intact but had flipped over, with its nose pointing into the bay.

Bodies of nine crash victims already have been recovered. The last, found Sunday, was that of 12-year-old Rosalia d'Ugo, daughter of Mrs. Natali d'Ugo, Chicago.

One of the crash survivors said Rosalia had managed to get clear of the wrecked plane and he had seen her struggling in the water.

The six survivors were in the rear of the plane and got out or were thrown clear when the tail cracked off. Two young students returning from Italy were uninjured and able to go home. The others were taken to hospitals.

Investigators said the plane apparently struck the end of a 2,000-foot pier with its tail as it approached the airport through rain and mist. Officials said the pilot, Capt. Guglielmo Algarotti, 52, who had missed three earlier radar-guided approaches to the field, was warned he was coming too low.

A veteran transatlantic flier, he was among the victims.

In Rome, the Italian government Defense Minister Paolo Emilio Taviani termed the crash "a grave blow" to Italian civil aviation.

Watches, Cash Taken From Buchman Store

Thieves entered the Harry Buchman store at Rapid River sometime Saturday night and made off with about $65 in change and two watches, according to Michigan State Police of the Gladstone post, who are investigating the burglary.

Missing are two Bulova watches, one a man's and the other a woman's watch, and money from the cash register.

Buchman discovered the breaking and entering when he opened the store at 8 a. m. Sunday, he reported to State Police. The burglary occurred sometime after 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

The thieves gained entrance to the building by removing a rear storm window and then breaking the inside glass. Apparently they went out the same way.

"AMERICAN ANNIVERSARY"

Hawaii was celebrating July 4th as early as 1875, more than 20 years before its annexation to the United States. The date was known as "American Anniversary."

Fire Safety Rules Issued

Simple fire safety precautions are essential to guard against Christmas hazards, Fire Chief Nels Bergeon has warned.

Chief Bergeon pointed out that two families in Union, N. J. were made homeless from a blazing Christmas tree when ornamental lighting overloaded the electric circuit last year.

In South River, N. J., Bergeon reported, a fire routed 40 people when sparks from a toy electric train beneath a Christmas tree ignited the tree.

The evergreen tree is loaded with pitch and resin that are extremely combustible. The tree ignites easily and burns so furiously that it is virtually impossible to extinguish the fire quickly.

Chief Bergeon issues the following advice for holiday fire safety:

1. Choose a small tree rather than a large one.
2. Store it outdoors until a day or two before Christmas.

3. When you bring it in, stand it in water and set it in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. Do not let it block and exit. Plan on what you must do if fire breaks out.

When you decorate your tree, remember these things:

1. Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition—no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets, by all means use 15 amp fuses on all your lighting circuits, (never use candles).

2. When you buy new sets or cords, look for the UL label. The ones that bear it have passed Underwriters' Laboratories test for fire and shock hazards.

3. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.

4. Ornaments should all be made of fireproof materials like metal or glass. Never decorate with cotton or paper unless they are labelled "Fireproof" or "flameproof."

5. Never set up electric trains under the tree.

Even when your tree is safe as you can make it, take these added

Your dinner will taste better,
Your Yuletide be more bright
If someone needy's comforted
By your gift Christmas night.

precautions as long as it is in your home:

1. Don't let gift wrappings pile up under or near the tree.

2. Don't leave tree lights burning when no one is home.

3. From time to time, see whether needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

4. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

Salvation Army To Distribute About 150 Yule Baskets

Approximately 150 baskets of food will be distributed by the Escanaba Salvation Army to assure a Christmas dinner for needy families in Delta County, it was reported this morning.

Baskets will be packed and toys arranged at a meeting of the Army and volunteer assistants from the American Legion auxiliary and Escanaba Women's Club at 7 tomorrow evening. Both baskets of food and toys will be distributed from 1 to 4 p. m., Wednesday. Girl Scouts will issue the toys.

Christmas shoppers are urged to contribute for this program by making use of the traditional Christmas kettle at the intersection of 11th and Ludington streets. Donations have not been quite as large as recent years, it was reported and all shoppers are asked to give as generously as possible so that the complete Salvation Army program can be carried out successfully.

Part of the money goes toward providing a Christmas party for the children at the Salvation Army headquarters. There will be a lunch, toys and a motion picture for needy children Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2.

ESCANABA IS SURE TO PROFIT ONLY WITH PRIVATE POWER

It is obvious from engineering reports by Consoer-Townsend and Stone & Webster that a city-owned electric plant cannot operate at a profit with present electric rates when all proper costs are taken into consideration. This conclusion is fully supported by the present experience of the Upper Michigan Power and Light Company.

The Upper Peninsula Power Company has offered to pay $1,000,000 for the system, which is $130,000 more than its book value. This money could be used to retire the City's present indebtedness. It would save interest and retirement payments of about $50,000 per year. It could also be used for municipal improvements.

The Company will build a generating plant in Escanaba costing $3,181,000, which along with the distribution system would be added to the City's tax rolls.

But equally as important as the dollar profits to the City, present industry will have positive assurance of enough power for expansion, and new industries can be attracted to Escanaba. That means more jobs for more people, and greater growth and prosperity for the entire area.

Escanaba Needs Firm Source Of Power In New U.P. Economy Era

FULL realization of Escanaba's role in the new economy which will come to the Upper Peninsula area with the opening of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, the St. Lawrence Seaway and achievement of new mining developments is dependent upon an adequate supply of electric power.

Escanaba needs facilities to grow in the years to come and to have a part in producing and handling the greater flow of goods through the Upper Peninsula which will result when these major developments are achieved.

In order to attract capital investments by major industries already here and by those that will come, Escanaba certainly should make provisions to supply a firm source of electric power. And it should be a source capable of expansion to meet increasing needs of both present and new industry.

The problem of preparation for this new era of Upper Peninsula economy must be met now, not five or 10 years from now.

With big money being spent on mining developments in Northern Minnesota and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and with big industry interested in this area as a field for expansion and development, Escanaba must not be caught short quibbling over a short term solution.

The answer does not lie in either REA or a municipal electric plant but in a privately owned and operated plant.

Peculiar Quirk In State Aid Law

A committee of Tuscola County educators are concerned over a portion of the present state school aid law which severely penalizes school districts financially which take the initiative to reorganize into efficient administrative units. This penalty is in the face of the fact that the State Department of Public Instruction, and many other educational authorities, recognize the advantages of reorganized school districts, and consequently urge that the step be taken to form efficient, consolidated school districts.

D. A. Crawford, superintendent of schools at Unionville, S. M. Glaza, Millington superintendent, and W. J. Thomas, Vassar superintendent, present some interesting information on this matter.

Using two school districts of approximately 1000 enrollment as examples, the committee discovered that the school district which was reorganized receives about $160,000.00 from the state while the non reorganized district receives $210,000.00 a year from the state. This is why this unfair situation prevails, according to the committee.

The present school aid law provides that the state will reimburse up to $50.00 per year for each elementary tuition students and up to $75.00 per year for each high school tuition student, to the school districts which send students to other school districts usually because they have no high school, have closed their schools, or have closed one or more grades in their school. If the tuition is more than $50.00 or $75.00, the sending districts pay the difference out of their general fund up to $125.00. However, after that the state again reimburses anything over $125.00 in tuition paid by the sending district.

The committee summarized its report by stating: "Primary or graded districts which do not attempt to maintain a high school have more state aid for the education of their high school pupils than do districts that tax themselves to build high school buildings and maintain a high school program. It does not seem fair that the present state aid law should penalize reorganized school districts when the State Department of Public Instruction and other educational authorities recognize the advantages and therefore encourage the formation of efficient, reorganized school districts."

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If war should come as suddenly as it did at Pearl Harbor 13 years ago, will the United States consult Britain and France before deciding to use atomic weapons? Will parliaments have to debate the issue while the enemy is destroying city after city?

This is the big question up for settlement in Paris as Secretary Dulles and the heads of other governments meet with the North Atlantic Treaty council.

Until now it has been agreed between America and Britain that, if any atomic bombs are to be loaded on American planes from bases in England, there should first be a consultation between the London and Washington governments. But now the problem has become more specific. What can the generals who command the North Atlantic Treaty forces, whose headquarters are in Paris, do about using atomic bombs in defending Europe against possible attack?

The military men, including European generals, want authority to retaliate at once. The civilian governments, on the other hand, mindful of the political effects of letting any such decision rest with the military, are insistent that the deciding word shall be given only by the respective cabinets.

EISENHOWER SILENT

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower, aware of the delicacy of the situation, declined to tell his press conference Wednesday what the American government plans to do about it if the British and French governments do not permit the military officers of NATO to use atomic weapons unless given permission after the fighting has started.

Mr. Eisenhower pointed out that, under a law passed by Congress, nobody can order atomic weapons used except himself. This is an impractical situation. For the President might be on the golf links or on a motor trip or in an airplane and, while communication might be established, it would not mean the instantaneous relay of all the information necessary for a decision.

The probability is that the President will have to delegate to the commander-in-chief of NATO forces and to the strategic air command in this country some form of contingent instructions that will enable immediate retaliation without waiting for a presidential order.

Nothing like this particular dilemma has ever arisen before. An interval of one hour may make a lot of difference if an order to destroy enemy cities is delayed after American or possibly European cities have been destroyed.

UNREALISTIC SITUATION

The British and French governments are under pressure from pacifist elements not to let their bases be used by Americans or anybody else until the atomic question is decided by the cabinets after a crisis arises. This is an unrealistic situation and will call for careful examination of all possible contingencies.

American law, moreover, does not allow atomic materials or weapons to be placed in the hands of any other military forces abroad but our own for the present. Will that law have to be amended, or can all military planning for use of the atomic weapons be carried on without letting the troops of other countries get actual possession of bombs and artillery missiles in the atomic category? These are points of discussion in the conference at Paris this week.

More and more the issue is shaping up as to whether the free countries are going to allow the first blow to be delivered by the enemy as was the case in World War II. The usual objection to any other course is that it is called "preventive war." But another view is emerging among military men—namely that if atomic weapons are distributed at strategic spots and the enemy knows that there is authority for instant retaliation the attack itself might be forestalled.

Certainly the whole program of NATO is based on the theory that Allied defense forces plus adequate armament and a plentiful supply of atomic bombs will be sufficient to deter an aggressor. But if, on the other hand the aggressor is given the advantage of several hours and a cumbersome machinery of debate is necessary in some parliament before reprisals can be authorized, then the Allied governments may themselves be responsible for the initial defeat. The question is one that needs clearing up in advance so as to warn an aggressor that his attack will not pay.

U.S. Policy Faces Tough Going At Tense Borders Of Holy Land

By LEON DENNEN

Jerusalem, Israel.—(NEA)—Along the tense borders of the Holy Land—where Arab and Jew live under an uneasy armed truce U. S. policy is facing a difficult challenge.

President Eisenhower will need the wisdom of King Solomon to settle the bitter Arab-Israel dispute—and, above all, bring peace to the strife-torn Middle East, rich in resources and strategically placed.

"Shalom (peace) between Arabs and Israel is what the Middle East needs if it is to be aligned with the free world," Israel's Premier Moshe Sharett told NEA Service in an exclusive interview.

"Israel belongs spiritually to the West but territorially to the Middle East and peace with the Arabs is our paramount aim," he said.

Israel's Premier, at 56, looks more like a minor Biblical prophet of the desert than head of the youngest state in history with—paradoxically—the strongest army in the Middle East.

A medium-sized man with smiling eyes and a small black moustache, he has fluent command of eight languages, including Arabic, Russian and Turkish.

Sharett has lived and worked with the Arabs since childhood. Unlike some extremist Israeli politicians, he is free of any feeling of superiority towards the Arabs whom the vastly outnumbered Jewish army defeated in 1949.

The Prime Minister stressed, among other things, two vital issues urgently in need of solution

PREMIER MOSHE SHARETT: "... spiritually to the West."

if the Middle East is not to fall prey to aggression:

1. The 900,000 Arab refugees who left Palestine during the Arab-Israel war and are now camping on Israel's troubled borders.

2. Shipment of U. S. arms to the Arab states.

Sharett said: "On the refugees: 'Israel is ready to make a concrete contribution towards solving the refugee problem—although we bear no responsibility for the refugees' plight. Unfortunately, the Arab states are not in a hurry to get rid of the refugees for the simple reason that they can exploit them effectively as a political club against the West, especially the U. S."

On U. S. Arms to the Arabs: "Many Arab politicians still hope that there is a chance that Israel will pine and die. They are wrong—woefully wrong. However, as long as the Arab countries get arms—which might eventually land into the hands of the Moslem Brotherhood and their Communist allies—Israel cannot relax vigilance."

Moderates in Israel's government, led by Sharett, are now under strong pressure to use the little country's present military advantage to improve Israel's position.

The pressure has been strengthened by fears that U. S. plans for the Middle East's defense against Red aggression—especially military aid to the Arab states—would swing the balance of power against Israel and increase her isolation. Because of the Arab economic boycott, Israel is hard-pressed financially and economically. She has a population of about 1,800,000 in contrast to 40 million or more Arabs. Against 2,500,000 square miles of the Arab states, Israel holds but 8000.

Israel's man-in-the-street thus fears that giving arms to the Arab states—while withholding them from Israel—would strengthen the Arabs in their hostility to Israel.

Premier Sharett has so far been successful in resisting the pressure of extremist elements. A moderate, he looks forward to an early peace between Israel and her neighbors—achieved through U. S.-British mediation.

The Prime Minister said: "Israel needs urgently U. S. economic aid that would bring peace, stability and development. So does the entire Middle East."

Without these "the people in the area are lost," Sharett concluded.

Somalia Flies World's Newest National Flag

WASHINGTON—Italy's elongated former East African colony, Somalia, has a new flag.

The banner is strikingly simple. It has a large white star on a solid blue field, nothing more. New Somali postage stamps show the flag to the world against a background of Italy's traditional colors—green, white and red, the National Geographic Society reports.

Somalia is a United Nations Trust Territory under Italian administration. It has been promised self-government after ten years of tutelage ending in 1960.

Long and narrow, Somalia provides comparison—and sharp contrast with California. Almost as wide and 300 miles longer, it is one-fifth greater in area. Its coast faces east instead of west, stretching 1,100 virtually unindented miles on the Indian Ocean from northeast to southwest, the reverse of California's slant.

Largely Wasteland

Hotter and drier than the Golden State, Somalia reaches 100 miles south across the Equator to Dicks Head on the border with Kenya. With few high spots, it holds close to sea level in its southern half. Northward it rises to a 3,000-foot plateau. Two peaks bordering its short Gulf of Oden coast rise 7,218 and 4,593 feet.

Fully half the territory is barren wasteland. A million seminomadic Somalians herd several million sheep, goats, camels and cattle in areas that offer forage. Crop farming is possible on only one-tenth of the land—that which lies near the few large water holes or along the Giuba and Sebebi Rivers. Crossing the southern plain, the rivers are fed by tributaries flowing from Ethiopia on the northwest.

A few Somalians till the soil, growing maize, rice, sesame and peanuts. Since 1936, skilled Italian farmers have developed plantations beside the rivers, growing bananas, cotton and sugar. These and livestock products account for most of the export trade volume.

Some 170,000 Somalians live in towns, 70,000 of them in Mogadiscio, the capital, chief port and communications center. Its broad, palm-lined streets and white buildings lead to waterfront warehouses that store cargoes carried by British and Italian ships visiting on regular runs. Coastwise dhows from Aden ply among lesser Somali ports—Merca, Brava and Chisimaio.

Obstacles Stall Freedom

Rural Somalians are illiterate. The territory has never had a written language of its own. Only a few urban residents have learned to write Italian or English in the score of lower schools so far opened. Illiteracy and the limitations of agricultural and transportation hamper the trustee program of preparing the people to run a sovereign nation.

British forces early in World War II entered Mogadiscio, ending Italy's 50-year colonization of Italian Somaliland. Nine years later, in April, 1950, the British transferred the administration to Italians as provided by the United Nations Trusteeship Council. The arrangement left unsettled the sharply disputed problem of a boundary between Somalia and Ethiopia.

Of Italy's other former colonies in east Africa, Libya became an independent kingdom on Christmas eve in 1951. Eritrea became an autonomous unit federated with Ethiopia on July 9, 1952. Ethiopia, which Fascist Italy held from 1935 to 1941, again has sovereign status under Emperor Haile Selassie.

So They Say

It is my personal opinion that Viet Nam is lost unless the French get out 100 per cent politically, economically and militarily, and so far they haven't consented to.

—Rep. James Richards, next chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

I don't like women.—Thomas P. Leonard, transient, charged in Toledo, O., with knife slaying of young mother

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The switch in top echelon State Department officials handling Middle Eastern affairs should not be taken as any indication of a change in American policy toward this area.

In this shift, Assistant Secretary of State Henry A. Byroade will become ambassador to Egypt. And George V. Allen, who has been ambassador to India, will become Assistant Secretary of State, succeeding Mr. Byroade.

There has been some properly suppressed relief, if not delight, in Israeli circles over the departure of Mr. Byroade from Washington. He was considered hostile to the Zionist cause for his frank statements on the problems of the Middle East.

He looked upon these problems from what were considered the best, long-term interests of the United States and the rest of the free world, rather than from the viewpoint of what might be the ambitions of any one country or group of countries in the area.

ISRAELI SPOKESMEN DID NOT LIKE what Mr. Byroade said and did. They termed his speeches and statements "Byroadism" and would have none of them.

The basis for objections to U. S. policies in the Middle East as stated by the American Zionist Committee for Public Affairs, which claims to be a spokesman for all U. S. Zionist organizations on American-Israeli relations, is briefly this:

Israel fears that the U. S. government, in giving arms to Iraq—and possibly to other Arab countries later on—will do so without requiring them to enter into negotiations with Israel for peace. At the same time, Israel objects because the U. S. has never acted on Israel's requests for arms, first made in February, 1952.

The Israelis say they have no objections to U. S. economic aid for the Arab countries, but that any arming of the Arab states makes the possibility of an Arab-Israel peace more remote.

The American Zionist Committee says it sought the opinions of all U. S. candidates for Congress on arming the Arabs, not as an effort to influence the U. S. elections last month, but merely to promote full discussion of a U. S. foreign policy which they thought not in the best interests of this country.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS DO NOT view these things in quite this light. Israeli pressure on the U. S. State Department to change its Middle East policy became so open and so great that at one time consideration was given to asking the government of Israel to recall one of its top representatives in the U. S. as persona non grata.

In the end this was not done. Instead, the Administration policy of patience and moderation in dealing with its more explosive problems was called on.

American policy to end the chaotic conditions in the Middle East is now admitted to be something that will take a long time to work out. It will take quiet negotiations with both sides. There may be little or no news about these negotiations until there are definite results to announce.

For instance, agreement on plans to harness the Jordan River and share its waters among several countries is expected next year.

It is recognized that peace cannot be brought to the Middle East by laying down the law. Either or both sides might like that if they could get guarantees of boundaries under the 1950 agreement by America, Britain and France to protect both the Arabs and Israel from aggression.

THE SUPER WAY IS NOW believed to lie in having the two sides find a common ground for settlement of their differences on mutually agreeable terms. It is admitted that neither side now seems to want peace. But this is and will continue to be the U. S. policy in helping them achieve peace.

It is an old practice in government that whenever a difficult or almost impossible situation arises, a smart young executive is assigned to work it out. He butts his head against it until he has contributed all he can. Then a new man is brought in.

Under this spotlight, Ambassador Allen comes to Washington. He has been an Assistant Secretary of State before—in charge of public affairs. He beat his brains out on the U. S. information program for a couple of years at the end of the war.

Before that he was an assistant director and director of the old Office of Near Eastern Affairs. He has been ambassador to Iran, Yugoslavia and India, and a consular officer in Egypt.

He knows his way around the enlarged division of Near Eastern, South Asian and African affairs which he will now head. While this area includes a good many trouble spots, it is a safe bet that he will now head. While this area includes a good many trouble spots, it is a safe bet that he will spend a good third of his time on problems having to do with that little area that is called "the Holy Land."

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

William Lyon Phelps was the kind of professor all Yale undergraduates loved. He told funny anecdotes, he gave high marks—and his examinations usually were comparative snaps. Imagine the consternation of one of his classes, therefore, when the good Dr. Phelps, in a contrary mood, suddenly sprang a tough quiz on the boys—and just before the Yuletide holidays, too!

One hapless student gazed helplessly at the answers, then wrote: "God knows the answers, Dr. Phelps. All I can say to you is Merry Christmas." He got his paper back with this note scrawled across the top by Billy Phelps: "God gets an A. You get an F. Happy New Year!"

Danny Thomas is getting wary of the precocious youngsters in Hollywood. He says he suggested to one 5-year-old, "Let's play horsey," and the kid said, "Oke. Put two bucks on Count Flash for me in the seventh race."

The Doctor Says... Adopting Child Should Not Be Entered Into Lightly

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Thousands and thousands of adopted children live in mutually happy relationship with their adoptive parents. In too many instances, however, either the children or the couples who have adopted them struggle with difficult problems because not enough care and thought was taken in making the adoption in the first place.

The question of adoption usually comes up for couples who desire children but do not hope to have any of their own. On the other side there are infants or children who have been deprived of normal family life by reason of illegitimate birth, death of parents, or perhaps economic disaster. When properly planned, therefore, adoption may be a splendid answer to the problems of both.

THERE ARE FOUR questions connected with adoption which seem to come up more frequently than any others. The first and most important comes from couples who wish to adopt a child and want to know how to go about doing so.

This should be more than just a spur-of-the-moment decision; adopting a child is not a relationship which should be entered into lightly. The physical condition both of the prospective adopted child and of the adopting couple should be given serious consideration. The hereditary background and religion of the couple and the child's natural parents should also be matched as closely as possible. Failure to do these things is responsible for many of the sad adoption cases on file with welfare agencies.

GETTING A SO-CALLED black market baby is the most common cause of unhappy and unsatisfactory adoptions. The chances of making a suitable match of the adopting parents and of the adopted child are greatly improved when reliable welfare agents and physicians are consulted and involved even though the wait may be longer.

Another kind of question is that which comes from Mrs. W., who wants to know if she and her husband, who are 41 and 44 years old, respectively, are too old to adopt an infant. This question is most difficult to answer since it involves the health, and economic conditions as well as other characteristics of the couple.

Assuming that Mr. and Mrs. W. are physically, emotionally and economically able to adopt an infant, they should probably look ahead frankly as to how they will feel about it in 10 or 15 years and whether they believe they will then be able and willing to cope with the problems of adolescence, education and the like.

ANOTHER COMMON question is whether an adopted child should be told that he or she is adopted. Most of those who have studied this question seem to have decided quite definitely that a child should be told as soon as he or she can understand it and that if this is properly done real good is accomplished.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

THE ENEMY TO THE RESCUE

The freakish distribution that South ran up against in the following hand should have spelled defeat for his slam contract, but one of the opponents was very kind.

East dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ A Q 10 9 6 3	♠ —
♥ J 5	♥ Q 9 8 4 3
♦ K Q 2	♦ Q 10 9 6
♣ —	♣ 5 3 2

♠ K J 8 7	♠ —
♥ 3 4 2	♥ —
♦ K 10 6	♦ —
♣ 9 5 4	♣ 10

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3♠	4♠	Pass	4♠
Pass	5♠	Pass	6♠
5♠	Redbl.	Pass	Pass

Needless to say, East's three-diamond opening was a desperate effort to keep North-South from "getting together," but its actual effect was to spur both into greater optimism than they otherwise might have felt. As for East's action over six clubs—this was a lead-directing double for a spade opening. Naturally, East could not know that the declarer, as well as himself, was void of spades, and though an immediate spade lead and ruff would not necessarily defeat the slam, it seemed all too probable that the hand could not be beaten without that lead.

West duly opened a spade, and East ruffed dummy's nine but he was shocked to see South over-ruff with the jack. South then led a trump to dummy and returned a diamond. East, perhaps still in a state of shock, played a low diamond—and South put in the eight. West ruffed and returned a trump, but South had no further difficulty.

When the diamond was led from dummy it would have been an excellent idea, of course, for East to put in the nine. This would force South's jack, and when West ruffed and returned a trump, South would find himself with one more loser than he could handle. On a second diamond lead from dummy East's ten would force a high honor, and South would then be in the position of having to ruff a heart and a diamond with only one trump remaining in dummy.

Families Share In Two Million

DETROIT (AP)—Christmas looked a lot brighter for two Detroit area families named Thursday as two of three heirs to a two-million-dollar estate of a former Detroit businessman.

William Robert Scott, 49, of Highland Park, and Mrs. Etta Mae Stricker, 46, of Sandwich East township, in neighboring Windsor, Ont., learned they would receive about $700,000 each from the estate of their uncle, Robert O. Scott, an electrical fixture business owner who died Aug. 2 in Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Stricker, whose husband had been out of work during a 10-week strike at the Ford of Canada plant, said:

"We are trusting in the Lord to guide us in spending the money. We expect to pay our debts and use the remainder for the work of the Lord."

Scott, an $80-a-week factory worker, said:

"I knew Uncle Bob had some money, but I didn't think it was that much. But now that I know the estate might be worth two million dollars. Wow!"

Six Questioned In New Mexico On Michigan Killing

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—Sheriff Claude Moncus plans to question six youths arrested in connection with a gasoline theft near here about the slaying Sept. 12 of a Birmingham, Mich., gas station attendant.

Moncus said the six—four men and two girls—were picked up near Tucumcari after they left a San Jon gas station without paying for gas. San Jon is 22 miles east of Tucumcari on U. S. 66.

"We found newspaper clippings about the murder on one of the girls," Moncus said.

The sheriff said Rosemary Anderson, 17, of Royal Oak, Mich., who was carrying the clippings, claimed to have been a girl friend of the murder victim, Doyle D. Howe, 24, of Birmingham.

Moncus identified the others arrested as Robert Isaacs, 18, and Richard L. Barte, 23, of Royal Oak; Clifford L. Moreland, 18, of Waterford, Mich.; Delores Voch, 20, of Berkshire, Mich.; and Clifford Gardner, 23, of Bloomington Ill.

Howe was beaten in a service station lavatory, then forced to kneel while the killers fired a shotgun blast into the back of his head. Police theorized the killers were angry because Howe didn't have the combination of the station safe. His pockets were rifled of about $69.

Californian Kills 4 With Hatchet

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Harold R. Oilar's wife and three children sang Christmas carols and went to bed. A few hours later, say police, Oilar killed them—with a Boy Scout hatchet.

Police and a neighbor early Sunday found the 39-year-old rug merchant unconscious from gas fumes, in an apparent suicide attempt, in a bathroom of his $25,000 home.

He was booked on suspicion of murder in the prison ward at the County General Hospital, where attendants said he is expected to survive. Detectives said that during questioning he muttered: "It can't be real. I've had a bad dream."

Police said Oilar twice had been sentenced on misdemeanor morals charges—once in 1938 for indecent exposure and in 1953 on a peeping Tom charge.

Soo Hill

4-H Christmas Program
SOO HILL—A musical and religious Christmas program was presented by the Soo Hill 4-H girls Wednesday evening to an audience of approximately 125 people.

Fred Bernhardt and Miss Ingrid Tervonen, 4-H personnel members, were guests with Mr. Bernhardt giving a short talk on the advantages of 4-H. Miss Howe, Junior High English teacher; Miss Groulak, Senior High home economics teacher, and Miss Knoblock and John Romstad, both Senior High English teachers, attended to view what rural 4-H members were accomplishing.

Mrs. Ruth Reese, Ed Gagnon and Mrs. George Goymerac represented the faculty of Soo Hill School. Lawrence Klug, Well's township school superintendent, and his wife were also present at the pageant.

Santa Claus came bearing gifts for the girls and their mothers and gave candy canes to all the smaller children present. A large Christmas tree was lighted, and the gavily decorated lunch room gave the party a festive air. Lunch was served by the 4-H hostesses, who decorated the tables with a Christmas centerpiece and tapers.

The entire 4-H club, girls and their leaders, will Carol Monday evening at St. Francis Hospital and will give gifts to the young children, who are patients there.

Lillian Pederson and Delores Anderson will accompany the girls on excursions. They also will repeat their performance at the Delta County Convalescent Home.

Five Patients Perish In Negro Home Blaze

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Flames raced through a Negro home for the aged Sunday night and burned five patients to death.

Fifteen others scampered out of the one-story frame building, with the physically able dragging the infirm with them. Two patients were taken to Charity Hospital.

The dead were identified as George Kyle, Zeno Campbell, Louis Bailey, Frank Jackson and Edward Brown.

Cause of the fire was not determined but Sidney Chase, the 14-year-old boy who discovered the smoke, said it started near the burning gas heaters in the patients' section. The boy is the cousin of the manager, Mrs. Charlene Chalk.

Now Is The Time For All Good Calendar Girls . . .

This is the time of the year when calendars blossom throughout the land, most of them featuring pretty girls. Styles change in calendar girls the same as in anything else dependent on public fancy. But one factor remains constant, according to Stan Shaw,

GAY 90's—She replaced war and historical scenes, brought first color to calendars. She really "sent" boys in the barbershop with that exposed ankle.

IN 1900—Favorite romantic subject at turn of the century was buxom bride in flowing negligee. Indian maids in the moonlight was another favorite.

EARLY 20's—Blushing beauties like this had the 1925 Dior look. Bathing in flappers were just entering era that became "Roaring 20's."

ROARING 20's—Calendar found a way to introduce nudes—through classic mythology. This Lorelei, rock-sitting on the Rhine, was typical.

1935 "BATHIE"—First pin-up was the 1935 girl in her two-piece bathing suit. From then on, the bathing suit got smaller and smaller each year.

EARLY 1940's—In the early 1940's, artists began posing girls in "story" situations, like this lass, who appears about to cry over spilled ink.

WAR'S END—After 1945, except for the Marilyn Monroe heyday, marked beginning of the trend back to covering up long-stemmed calendar beauties.

1955's QUEEN—She's younger. She features her face more than her form. She isn't a nude but she isn't a prude. She's billed as "refreshing."

Jury Deadlocked For Four Days In 9-Week Trial

to remember any jury going so many hours without a verdict, or being held so long by a judge.

The jurors took the case at 10:13 a.m. last Friday. When they were excused Sunday night—there was no after-dinner session—they had been together nearly 56 hours, and actually deliberating in the jury room just over 24 hours.

Sheppard himself looks pale, drawn and utterly weary.

The state alleges that he killed his wife last July 4. His relations with other women, the prosecution argued, prompted the crime. Thus, the charge is first degree murder. Conviction of the charge would carry a mandatory death sentence unless the jury recommended mercy.

Sheppard steadfastly denies any guilt. He says a prowler broke into his home while he was asleep and beat Marilyn Sheppard to death. She was pregnant at the time.

Under Ohio law, a prisoner must be brought from his cell to the courtroom every time the jury recesses for meals or for the night. Thus, Sheppard has confronted them eight times since they began deliberating his fate. They went to dinner last night shortly after 6 o'clock, and were excused from the usual night session.

Flying Couple From Augusta, Mich., Forced To Land In Cornfield

WHITESVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—A young couple from Augusta, Mich., were forced to land their single engine plane during a snow storm some five miles north of Whitesville Sunday when fuel ran low.

C. D. Smith, 24, and wife, Iris, 22, left the twilight landing without injury. Damage to the plane was slight.

Smith came down in a cornfield where police had lit flares after hearing the plane in trouble.

Russian Scientists Make 2-Headed Dog

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist claims he produced a two-headed dog but says it only lived six days after the operation. He's out to bring forth a harder specimen.

Dr. Vladimir Petrovich Demikhov, of the Moscow Institute of Surgery, told an interviewer he grafted a puppy's head on a mature dog last February as part of a series of experiments.

He said the two-headed dog, in its short life with two heads, exhibited some odd traits: Both heads showed the same desires at the same time. When the older (original) head wanted the eat, so did the younger. When it was hot, both heads panted. But emotions were not always identical.

When the old dog, for example, tried to shake off the puppy's head, the unwanted head bit its host.

Dr. Demikhov reported he is planning to produce another two-headed canine, and he expects this experiment to be a success. He said his first creation died because of imperfections in the operative technique which he believes have been overcome.

Demikhov and his assistants are carrying on other experiments with dogs. They claim to have restored youth to one ancient animal through the transfer of supranal glands from the kidney of a young dog.

Ogonyok, the nation's most widely circulated magazine, published a photograph purported to be of the two-headed dog, which it described thus:

The head, shoulders and front paws of a puppy were separated from its body—and from heart and lungs—and sewn onto a mature German shepherd dog on its right side, about six inches below the ear. The new head was connected to the old circulatory and respiratory systems. For two days there were no signs of life, then suddenly both heads yawned simultaneously.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors were the center of a stock market advance today while steel faltered.

In the early afternoon, gains ran to between one and three points with a few pressing out beyond. Losses were fractional for the most part.

Trading was heavy. Friday's total was 3,730,000 shares.

Aircraft posted the sharpest gains with Douglas Aircraft up around seven points. It gained nine points Friday.

Selling higher were Chrysler, General Motors, Continental Motors, Goodrich, Boeing, United Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Cyanamid, International Paper, U. S. Lines, New York Central, Atlantic Coast Line, and Sinclair oil.

Ford River Lions Hold Holiday Party

The Ford River Lions club held its annual children's Christmas party Sunday, Dec. 19, at 5 p. m. in front of the village Christmas tree.

Santa Claus arrived at the party with King Lion, Claude Leclerc, and distributed bags of goodies to approximately 150 children, who sang Christmas carols.

Everett Dahlvik was in charge of obtaining the tree, and Eugene Beaudoin was in charge of decorations. Chairman of the party was Phil Miron.

Experience is not so much what happens to you, as what you do with it.

Foundations Call Criticism Biased

Professional societies. It said professional foundation administrators, not the big-name trustees, wield the actual power.

However, it declared foundations generally are desirable and it said particular benefits have come from foundations in medicine, public health and science.

But the tendency of foundations in the social science field, it said, is to favor "empirical" research which it declared in turn promotes "collectivism" or "socialism." And it said that while "externally, communism is the greater danger, internally, socialism offers far greater menace."

Big Three Head List
Foundation influence has also crept into foreign policy matters, the report said, declaring that in one instance more "alertness" by trustees of some foundations which provided funds for the Institute of Pacific Relations "might have saved China from Communists and prevented the war in Korea."

The lengthy document ticked off a long list of names of organizations and individuals in connection with the alleged foundation-influenced "network."

Mentioned most often were the country's big three among fund groups: the Ford Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, several Carnegie groups, and what it called "offshoots" of the big three. Among Carnegie organizations named were the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

The GOP report also assailed the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune and the Washington Post and Times Herald, which it said had connections with foundations and had criticized the investigation. The latter two newspapers said statements made in the report were not true.

Researchers At U.M. Seek Ways To Lick Great Lakes Gales

ANN ARBOR (AP)—To the Great Lakes sailor who rides the waves in small craft along Michigan shores, the saying "any port in a storm," has a special meaning.

The small boats, fishing and pleasure craft alike, often found themselves buffeted by storms without the semblance of refuge in sight. Every year the coast line is marked by tragedy.

Refuge Harbors Planned
Sponsored by the Michigan State Waterways Commission, Ernest F. Brater, professor of civil engineering, and Leslie D. Stair, his associate, are finding new ways to lick the stormy lakes.

The waterways commission is putting their research into practical terms by building a string of "harbors of refuge" every 30 or 40 miles along the Lake Huron shore.

Brater and Stair build small models of the lake's shoreline in their water tank. Then they extend breakwaters into their simulated lake. Finally the test comes when their wave making machine creates storm conditions.

Models have already been tested for areas around Port Sanilac, Port Austin, Hammond Bay, and Harrisville on Lake Huron.

Breakwater Tested
A current case in point is the Black River which snakes its way out of the upper Michigan city of Ironwood and flows into Lake Superior. A harbor is being contemplated for south of the Black River. At first it was thought that two jetties would secure the harbor but Brater and Stair were called in to make sure. Stair went to the area.

It was previously believed that wave action would scour out sediment which chokes the Black River every spring.

Stair studied the area and concluded that the sediment comes from waves and winds that carry erosion material from hills to the northeast and east of the area.

With the shoreline duplicated to the closest degree, Stair and Brater now are experimenting with a dogleg breakwater to shelter the east side and a straight breakwater to shelter the west.

Personal

Richard K. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Johnson, 521 S. 11th St., left for Fort Lauderdale Beach, Fla., after spending a month's vacation at his parents' home. He is employed at the Fort Lauderdale Beach Hotel.

The Coming Of Christ

--Moses

Selected by the Department of Worship and the Arts, National Council of Churches.

God Rains Bread from Heaven, from a French manuscript, "Scenes from the Old Testament", of the 13th Century. The Pierpont Morgan Library, New York.

"Then the Lord said to Moses, 'Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a day's portion every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law or not.'" (Exodus 16:4)

In answer to the supplication of Moses the children of Israel, on their way to the Promised Land, were fed by God with bread sent from heaven. With the advent of Christ and the establishment of the new covenant, it is He who gives us bread from heaven — even His own body. As He says, "Truly, truly, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven; my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. . . . I am the bread of life; he who comes to me shall not hunger, and he who believes in me shall never thirst." (John 6:32,35) Next: David.

CHANGEABLE COLORS

Frogs have black pigment cells in their skin, which they can contract or expand. When they are enlarged, the animal appears dark, while it is paler when the pigment cells are contracted.

Republicans Find It Takes Cash To Win In Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Having cried wolf for six years, it now is doubtful whether Michigan Republicans can stir the voters with outcries that the CIO is trying to seize control of state government.

This is a pity because, if there ever were reason to believe this, it is more true now than at any time in the past.

Republican orators for the past six years have been screaming about the "power-mad CIO bosses," and "CIO goon squads," the CIO-PAC "line," the ADA undermining the American way of life and similar clichés.

Voters Fail To Respond
These outcries have had remarkably little success in frightening the voters away from the Democratic ticket in the past. Observers doubt whether they are going to scare very many in the future, except those rock-ribbed Republicans who see Walter Reuther under every bed.

But in the last election something new was added, or something bigger than ever before. And it is going to be hard for the Republicans to depict this without sounding like a cracked old record.

Let us first concede that for many years, the Republican party has been largely financed by the business community—and generally well financed.

But in the Nov. 2 election campaign, no matter what Democratic spokesmen say, there are indications that the CIO spent tremendous sums for the Democrats which will not appear on any campaign expense accounting.

The CIO did not give this money to the Democrats. It spent it for the Democratic cause.

Paid $20 a Day
There are indications that it paid thousands of union members $20 a day to obtain registrations, ring doorbells, peddle circulars, haul voters to the polls, act as poll challengers and the like. The Republicans did not have the money to put any such army of workers into the field.

In certain key congressional and legislative districts, the CIO apparently sent in teams of skilled operators, with stenographers, mimeograph machines and well-prepared literature. It swamped Republican candidates who had neither the money, the manpower nor the experience to meet this kind of attack.

The average legislative candidate in upstate Michigan is accustomed to spend a few hundred dollars on his campaign, personally hand out a few thousand innocuous cards and tack up a few signs. He cannot under the present Republican system meet the kind of campaign the CIO staged in some areas this year—apparently as a kind of experiment and guide to future years.

Bad Political Trend
The Republicans have reacted naturally to this new approach. They say, with some reason: "If that's the way we've got to do it then we have to have millions to spend, too, and trained workers on our payrolls the year-round."

The result of the situation can only be a frightening contest to see who can spend the most money—business or labor. And both have plenty to spend.

It probably is unjust to condemn organized labor for—as it says—doing what the Republicans have done for years only doing it better and on a bigger scale.

But Republican thinking right now is that "we must have a lot more money" to meet the Democrat-labor coalition on equal footing.

And that can lead to a disturbing development in American politics—a cash-and-carry political system never before approached.

All of the toys received at the two parties are presented to the Child's Welfare Club or other organization for inclusion in Christmas baskets.

100% Diesel-Equipped

Within the next month use of steam locomotives will practically be a thing of the past on the Soo Line railroad.

The following article on dieselization of the system appears in the most recent issue of the Soo Liner, official publication of the Soo Line railroad.

"When the Diesel-electric locomotives now on order are delivered about the middle of January, the System will be for all practical purposes, 100 per cent dieselized.

"Within the last couple of months orders were placed for 59 new diesel locomotives. Twenty-five of these were ordered for the Wisconsin Central and 34 were ordered for the Soo Line.

"All units for the Wisconsin Central will come from Electric-Motive Division of General Motors and include seventeen road switchers, 1,750 H.P. general-purpose 9's, six of which will have steam boilers and may be used on passenger trains; and eight 1,200 H.P. switchers.

"The Soo Line will receive from Electro-Motive Division of General Motors, eighteen switcher general-purpose units of 1,750 H.P., of which seven will have steam boilers for passenger service, and eight 1,200 H.P. switchers; from American Locomotive four road switchers, 1,000 H.P. and from Fairbanks-Morse and Company, four 1,200 H.P. switchers. Total expenditure for the 59 units will be $8,376,960.

"On receipt of those ordered for the Wisconsin Central that portion of the Soo Line System—Stevens Point Division—will be 100 per cent dieselized. It's hard to believe but it is to be a consummated fact that there will not be a single piece of steam power left on the old Wisconsin Central.

Steam In 'Moth Balls'

"The old Soo, for all intents and purposes, will be completely dieselized except that water tanks and coaling stations will be maintained between Minneapolis and Sault Ste. Marie because, when heavy grain shipments out of North Dakota require additional power, some diesel locomotives will be taken off the Gladstone Division and sent west to handle grain. For those two or three months steam power will be used. In the meantime the steam locomotives will be kept in "moth balls" at Gladstone and Minneapolis.

"The rise of diesel power on the American railroad is one of the most amazing happenings in this history of railroading. The present generation of Americans has been witnessing a revolution in railway motive power — a revolution that has involved not only the replacement of billions of dollars worth of railway equipment, but also extensive replacements of existing power plants by new plants, and coaling and water stations by new oil storage stations. Moreover, the changeover from steam to diesel power has brought about extensive revisions of train schedules to enable the railroads to take advantage of the special capabilities of diesel power.

Rise Of Diesels

"At the beginning of 1940, the Class I railroads owned 41,117 steam locomotives and only 510 diesel-electric locomotives, most of which were employed in switching and passenger service. Each year since then has witnessed an increase in the use of diesel power and a corresponding decline in the use of steam power. The change has been particularly rapid since the end of World War II.

"In the first seven months of 1954, diesel locomotives performed 33.84 per cent of the freight service of Class I railroads, compared with 0.05 per cent in 1940 (that is, five one-hundredths part of one per cent — really next to nothing); 85.32 per cent of the passenger service, compared with 5.20 per cent in 1940; and 89.24 per cent of the switching service, compared with 9.65 per cent in 1940.

Women Will Not
Bowl This Week

There will be no women's league bowling this week at the Midway lanes but matches will be resumed the week between Christmas and New Year's. Men will roll league matches, however, and on Thursday night there will be a double shift in order to make up for a missed match at Thanksgiving time.

Floating Island
Causes Damage

BOLTON, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut Fish and Game Dept. says that capturing an itinerant island was its strangest assignment.

It happened during a heavy storm when the island in Bolton Lakes broke loose. As it bumped along the shore, it destroyed boats and knocked down docks. Conservation officers finally used outboard motorboats to shove the island against the shore. There it was moored with heavy ropes. The island measured 125 feet long, 75 feet wide and six feet deep. It consisted of a mass of tangled vegetation, some small trees and a thick growth of brush.

Sportsmen Find Hunters
Saw Fewer Deer In 1954;
Re-elect White President

Seventy-five per cent of the deer hunters canvassed here by the Schoolcraft County Sportsman's Club reported they saw fewer deer in the county this year, and 72 per cent reported they failed to get their buck.

The figures, released by the club, also showed 19 per cent of the hunters reporting they saw more deer in 1954 than in either 1952 or 1953. Six per cent made no comment on the deer population.

The club made the survey for the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's association. About 50 hunters were polled.

Merwin White has been unanimously re-elected president of the Schoolcraft club for the ensuing year. Other officers elected are James Howland, vice president; Russell Brunet, secretary, and Earl Cowman, treasurer.

The club currently is planning to make checks of deer yards later in the winter, in accordance with practices of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's association. It also plans to poll trappers of predatory animals, to determine whether they would continue to trap predators if bounty payments were discontinued. The latter information is sought by the NMSA. Trappers are asked to send their opinions to the club president here.

Events planned by the club include a legislative panel discussion to be held at the Sportsman's clubhouse Jan. 25 with conservation department officers attending to report on proposals for the coming year.

Memberships in the organization now are expiring.

Hawks Bow To Pioneers; Practice Slated Tuesday

HOUGHTON (Special) — The Bukovich brothers demonstrated again where much of the power in the Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League lies as they paced the Portage Lake Pioneers to a 14-3 win over the still-not-in-condition Escanaba Hawks in Dee Stadium here yesterday afternoon.

It was lack of practice and conditioning that proved the difference as the Hawks came through with two fine periods of hockey, but generally loose play in the second period proved their downfall.

TICKET SALE
Reserved seat tickets for next Sunday's game between Escanaba and Marquette, the Hawks' first home game, will be on sale at Gust Asp's and Quality Home Furniture from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday. Season tickets at a bargain price for 12 home games may be purchased from Jim McNicoll or Marc Beauchamp, phone 654-W or 2224, respectively.

Tony and Joe Bukovich each scored the hat trick and another Pioneer standby, fiery Jackie Ruelle, scored twice and picked up three assists to lead the Portage sextet.

Olson, Mancini Score
Mark Olson scored one and Tony Mancini scored twice for the Hawks' three tallies. Aimo Muhonen assisted Mancini's opening goal at 6:35 which gave Escanaba the lead until 12:35 of the first period when Ruelle banged one in.

Escanaba played Portage Lake on even terms the third period, each scoring twice, after the roof fell in on the Hawks in the second session.

HOME ICE AT LAST
Although they have played three games, the Escanaba Hawks will hold their first practice of the season on home ice at 7 p. m. tomorrow. The exhibition building rink was flooded over the weekend, and sideboards and bleachers are now erected. The Escanaba Hockey Association will meet in the Chamber of Commerce office at 7:30 this evening.

Olson scored on Steve Butorac's assist after only 33 seconds of the finale, and Mancini collected his second on a double pass from Warner Wilson and Clarence Matt to end the scoring for the night with three minutes of play left.

Minus Artwich, Poca
Escanaba was handicapped by the absence of Ben Artwich, star goalie, and Guy Poca and Lee Haugen, all of whom were bogged down by heavy snowfalls enroute to Houghton. Artwich drove as far as Amasa before snow prevented further travel, and Poca and Haugen failed to reach Houghton from their homes in Virginia, Minn., 250 miles away. Russ Mervyn, young goalie from the Canadian Soo, substituted for Artwich in the Escanaba nets. Ray Tapani, 17-year-old Houghton youth, tended the Pioneer net.

ED FURGOL

Ed Furgol Cops First In Havana Tournament

HAVANA (P) — Ed Furgol was off for a Florida rest cure for his ailing right arm today, packing along a $2,000 first prize check from the Havana Invitation Golf Tournament and his first victory since he won the National Open last June.

The Clayton, Mo., splinter, who has carried a withered left arm since a childhood accident, didn't seem to notice the injured right arm in the tourney windup Sunday. He shot a 67 over the par-72 Havana Country Club course, a 6-377-yard layout, for a 72-hole total of 273-15 strokes under par.

It wasn't the best round of the tourney for Furgol (he shot a 66 for runner-up honors opening day), but it brought him up from the field for a one-stroke edge over Walt Burkemo, Franklin, Mich.

Burkemo had putter trouble on the final green and watched a six-footer go astray. It gave him a 68 and $1,400.

Al Besselink, who had a three-stroke lead going into the final round, and Shelley Mayfield, the first-round leader with Tommy Bolt on a 65, tied for third with a 275 total. Besselink, Grossingers, N. Y., played his best since injuring his right hand in a charity event a year ago, but blew up with a 73 on the final round.

Mayfield, of Chicopee, Mass., finished with a 70, while Bolt, of Houston, Tex., came home with a 71 for fourth place on a 276 total.

Utah Whips LaSalle 79 To 69 For Best College Cage Showing

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
If there are any better outfits than Utah in the college basketball ranks at present, they better stand up and be counted.

The Utes brought a so-so 6-0 mark into Madison Square Garden Saturday night and to everyone's surprise proceeded to score a 79-69 victory over LaSalle, erstwhile NCAA champion and the nation's No. 1 team in last week's Associated Press poll.

Utah showed a relaxed, confident team, well coached and unawed by the Explorers. They were in command for the greater share of the final half after trailing 41-38 at the intermission.

Gardner Is Coach
The Utes, though expertly coached by Jack Gardner, the former Kansas State mentor, were by no means a great team against LaSalle. But they'll do until a better one comes along.

Admittedly, LaSalle, with its standout Tom Gola netting only 19 points, might have experienced an off night. But it's doubtful that even a tip-top LaSalle club could have restrained the Utes. The Utes were so superior the result can't even be termed an upset, except by way of excuse among the experts who delegated Utah to no better than the No. 15 spot in the rankings.

Whether Utah is actually as good as it looked should show up Tuesday night at Lexington, Ky., when Utah runs up against Kentucky, No. 2 in the nation, in the first round of the Kentucky Invitation Tournament.

Whether Utah is actually as good as it looked should show up Tuesday night at Lexington, Ky., when Utah runs up against Kentucky, No. 2 in the nation, in the first round of the Kentucky Invitation Tournament.

Kentucky Unbeaten
By coincidence, LaSalle is in the same get-together, opposing Southern California in the first round.

Kentucky stayed among the unbeaten last week with a 79-61 lack of Temple, the club that up-ended St. John's of Brooklyn last week. It was the Wildcats' 28th consecutive victory.

Southern Cal won its fifth division in six over the weekend, mauling New Mexico 103-39.

Another of the holiday tournaments gets under way today at Oklahoma City with Oklahoma A&M, George Washington, Wyoming, Houston, Tulsa, San Francisco, Wichita and host Oklahoma City competing in the All-College shindig.

George Washington, unbeaten conqueror of highly rated Duquesne for the Steel Bowl title; Wichita, among the Missouri Valley Conference favorites; San Francisco, a 56-44 winner over previously unbeaten and eighth-ranked UCLA Saturday; and Wyoming, a possible sleeper that defeated St. Louis 74-68 over the weekend are the teams to watch.

One other top-ranked team followed the pattern of LaSalle and UCLA over the weekend as Indiana (No. 7) looked anything but a repeater in the Big Ten in a 97-65 loss to Cincinnati. It was the Hoosiers' third setback.

Notre Dame Falls
With only sixth-ranked Missouri idle, the rest of the top 10 survived the weekend. Illinois (No. 3) added further proof that this isn't Notre Dame's year with its fourth straight victory, 66-57; North Carolina State (No. 4) made it 8-0 with an 85-74 whipping of Texas Tech; Dayton (No. 5) handed College of Pacific its third defeat on an Eastern tour, 73-66; and Niagara (No. 10) bopped Toledo 80-61.

Duquesne, rated No. 9, smothered the Peoria Cats, NAHU champs and world amateur titlists, 82-63 in an exhibition.

Four tournaments were completed over the weekend. Alabama rated behind Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference, gave West Virginia its first defeat 96-82 to win the Birmingham (Ala.) Classic; Auburn whipped previously unbeaten Tennessee 73-64 for the Blue-Gray title at Montgomery, Ala.; Tennessee A & I, an all-Negro squad, won the NAIA tipoff test at Kansas City with a 94-72 victory over Rockhurst; and Lewis College defeated Illinois Navy Pier 72-70 for the University of Illinois at Chicago championship.

Girard Stars As Lions Edge Cleveland 14-10

By FRITZ HOWELL
CLEVELAND (P) — Buddy Parker's Detroit Lions defeated the Cleveland Browns for the seventh time in eight tries Sunday, and after the blizzard-swept game the rival coaches said:

Paul E. Brown — "We'd have liked a victory in that one, but we didn't get it."

Parker — "I wish that were the score of next Sunday's game."

The score was 14-10, and the Lions hit the airways for the come-from-behind touchdown in the last 50 seconds after it appeared the Browns had it wrapped up.

The game, except for the prestige involved, meant nothing, since each team had already clinched its division championship. It was a makeup tilt, postponed from Oct. 3, and served as a practice swing for next Sunday's clash between

Canadiens Belt Red Wings 5-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The high-flying Montreal Canadiens just keep rolling along on top of the pack in the National Hockey League and there's no telling when they'll slow up.

The Frenchmen, who finished second to the Detroit Red Wings last season, blanked the defending champions 5-0 Sunday night to take a five point lead. Goalie Jacques Plante scored his first shutout since returning from five weeks on the injured list.

In other league games, the Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers played to a 3-3 tie and the Chicago Blackhawks trounced the Boston Bruins 6-1.

The Canadiens' victory snapped Detroit's string of seven games without defeat and also was Montreal's fifth in seven meetings with Detroit.

Ken Mosedell, third in the league scoring list, scored twice, his 15th and 16th goals of the season.

Goalie Hank Bassen started in his first NHL game, while rookie Ed Litzenberger picked up two goals and one assist for Chicago. The victory was the Black Hawks' second at home in 14 showings, and first over Boston in five games.

Saddler Sets Date To Battle Perez

BOSTON (P)—Sandy Saddler, no longer recognized as the world featherweight champion by the NBA will fight Lulu Perez of Brooklyn at Boston Garden Jan. 17 in a 10-round non-title bout.

The Callahan A. C. Sunday announced the top event of the card in an Ed Sanders memorial program. Sanders died Dec. 12 after being knocked out in a New England heavyweight title scrap with Willie James.

Ten per cent of the gross and a percentage of the profits are to go to Sanders' widow.

Recently the NBA decided not to recognize Saddler as featherweight king because he did not defend his crown within a six months period.

Berrigan Scores 37 As Crusaders Top Bishop Baraga Quint 77 To 45

It took the Holy Name Crusaders a period to get going here Saturday night but when they started rolling they swept over Bishop Baraga 77-45 for their third win in six starts.

The teams battled it out on even terms in the first period which ended 17-16 in favor of Coach Tom St. Germain's quint.

As the second period got under way the Crusaders rattled in 14 straight points before Baraga was able to score on a free throw with a little over three minutes left in the first half. The Crusaders outscored their foes 22-5 and took the halftime intermission with a 39-21 lead.

Berrigan Hits 37
With reserves seeing action in the final two periods, the Crusaders kept pulling steadily away. Their 77 points represents the highest scoring total in the new Holy Name gymnasium, topping the previous high of 70 in the dedicatory game against Escanaba.

Junior center John Berrigan had a field day in the slot against Baraga, scoring 37 points, his highest single-game output of the season. The dead-eye Berrigan now has scored 171 points in six games for a naverage of 28.5 per game. He has yet to fall below the 25-point mark in any game.

Gary Paler, starting guard, hit for 15 points to aid Berrigan in setting the new gym record. Eleven Crusaders were in action and all but two of them gained the scoring column.

Play Alumni Wednesday
The Blu-Jacks had trouble hitting the hoop and only two players, Paul Fleury and Dick Shanley, scored in double figures, both hitting 10 points.

Holy Name returns to action Wednesday night at 8 in a game against a star-studded alumni team which will be coached by Fr. Stephen Schneider. The alumni squad will be built around the captains of the past five St. Joe Trojan teams.

The Crusader Bees won the preliminary game, 68-28.

Grozza Is Selected NFL Most Valuable

ST. LOUIS (P)—Lou Groza, Cleveland Browns place-kicker, was named the National Football League's most valuable player Sunday by the Sporting News.

Groza holds numerous NFL place-kicking records and booted a total of five field goals in helping win two games this fall against Philadelphia and the New York Giants. The MVP selection by the baseball weekly is a new award started this year.

The newspaper's all-sports section also announced this 1954 pro all-star team: Pete Pihos, Philadelphia Eagles and Harlon Hill, Chicago Bears. Ends: Groza and Lou Cremer, Detroit Lions. Tackles: Les Bingaman, Detroit and Bruno Banducci, San Francisco 49ers. Guards: Chuck Bednarik, Philadelphia; Center: and Doak Walker, Detroit. Joe Perry, San Francisco. Otto Graham, Cleveland and Olle Matson, Chicago Cardinals. Backs.

Williams' Comeback Voted Best Of Year

By JOE REICHLER

Ted Williams, who may not come back to baseball any more, was voted today as having made the greatest comeback of the 1954 season.

The mighty slugger of the Boston Red Sox, generally recognized as one of the greatest of all hitters, gained the nod over another of the all-time greats, Bobby Feller, veteran right-handed pitcher of the Cleveland Indians.

The 422 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the annual Associated Press poll spread their votes over 43 players.

Wertz Was Third

Williams received 84 votes to Feller's 70. Vic Wertz, who did so well for Cleveland after the Indians had acquired him from Baltimore last June, was third with 52 votes. Joe Coleman, veteran Baltimore right-hander, was fourth with 39, and Sal Maglie, clutch right-hander of the New York Giants, was fifth with 29. Maglie led all National Leaguers on the comeback path.

The rest of the top 10 included

Johnny Antonelli, Giants, 22; Larry Doby, Indians, 15; Marv Grissom, Giants, 13; Steve Gromek, Detroit Tigers, 11; and Jim Wilson, Milwaukee Braves, 8.

Second Hitch

Those who voted for Williams obviously regarded the 36-year-old outfielder as still on the comeback trail although he returned from his second hitch with the Marines in August 1953. He went on a batting rampage in the closing months of the '53 season, hitting a blistering .407 in 37 games followed that up with a spectacular .345 campaign in '54.

The slender slugger hammered 29 homers and drove in 89 runs although a fractured collarbone and an attack of pneumonia kept him inactive for six weeks.

Feller made a remarkable comeback last year, posting a 13-3 won-loss record following two ordinary years in which his combined total was 19 victories and 20 defeats. The 36-year-old former fireballer had an impressive 3.09 earned run average and numbered a two-hitter and four-hitter among his performances.
